Overview

Naomi Debidin joins Foundry Chambers as a pupil in October 2026.

Prior to commencing pupillage, Naomi worked as a Senior Criminal Defence Paralegal at Lewis Nedas Law, becoming the first person to hold that position within the firm's Crime Department. In that role, she managed her own caseload and assisted on a wide range of serious and complex criminal matters, including murder, serious violence, sexual offences, drug offences, organised crime and fraud.

Naomi graduated with First Class Honours in Law, with a specialism in Criminal Law, from The London Metropolitan University before completing the Bar Practice Course at The University of Law, graduating with a Distinction. She has completed specialist courses in Forensic Science (King's College), Traffic Law (LSIB), as well as Copyright and Related Rights (WIPO).

Naomi has a keen interest in criminal and entertainment law and looks forward to developing a broad practice during pupillage.

Outside work, Naomi previously competed internationally in tennis, judo and golf. She is also a classically trained pianist and drummer and enjoys boxing and swimming. She is fluent in both English and Dutch.
